

ACRL 2006 Excellence in Academic Libraries Award Winners

Award-winning services @ your library[®]

Excellent libraries are:

An important part of the campus
learning community

Connecting students and faculty with a world of knowledge

Investing in the future while preserving the past

@ Rochester Institute of Technology

The RIT Libraries' new strategic directions are providing faculty, students, and staff with innovative programs and services in a dynamic culture of assessment. The Publishing and Scholarship Support Center provides a collaborative environment for a host of twenty-first century resources including digital media, e-theses, and an institutional repository.

@ Augustana College

The Thomas Tredway Library is more than a repository of books or a gateway to information. The library demonstrates the importance of place by offering innovative and collaborative programs and services to the faculty, students, and staff. The competency-based instruction sessions are highly rated by faculty and students alike.

Applications for the 2007 ACRL Excellence in Academic Libraries Award are due December 1, 2006. Please see the "Awards" section of the ACRL Web site for more information.

Who makes it all happen?
Your librarians—
the ultimate search engines @ your library[®]

50 East Huron Street • Chicago, IL 60611
www.ala.org/acrl • e-mail: acrl@ala.org

BLACKWELL'S
BOOK SERVICES

Sponsor of the Excellence in Academic Libraries award