Kevin Nolan, an NTID / RIT graduate of 1971 was one of only 70 students in the NTID inaugural class of 1968. Alongside Robert Panara, Nolan and two other students helped form the NTID Drama Club. Starring in many productions such as "The Marriage Proposal", "Laurel and Hardy", and "Up In Central Park", Nolan is best known for his performance in "The Claw" in 1971. That same year, Nolan won the Outstanding Service Award at the First Annual Golden Award Night. In 1977 Kevin Nolan won the Distinguished Alumni Award. Nolan returned to the NTID stage in 2009 to perform in Equus.

This collection is comprised of photographs of NTID productions from 1970-2008, programs from the shows, scripts, and newspaper clippings about NTID and the NTID drama club.
