

RIT Libraries Digital Projects Copyright Acknowledgement Form

As per United States Copyright Law, the Wallace Library is authorized to provide reproductions of copyright protected works for the use of private study, scholarship, or research. For uses beyond this, written permission from the copyright holder(s) is required. Usage that requires copyright permission includes, reproduction, distribution, publication, public performance, and public display. This includes publication and distribution via print or electronic mediums.

As the project lead, it is the undersigned's understanding that it is their responsibility to:

- (1) obtain written permission from the copyright holder(s), or
- (2) determine if Fair Use applies, or
- (3) determine if the work has passed into the public domain.

The Wallace Library does not accept any responsibility for copyright violations and the undersigned assumes sole risk of copyright infringement.
